Women as Health Care seeker

During the last 5 weeks pandemic, most of the private nursing homes have been closed down; services of coronavirus infected public hospitals and health posts have stopped and their health care providers are quarantined, and the remaining health care services are catering to patients of coronavirus.
 Thus, highly inadequate public health services have been directed to treatment of COVID19 patients and testing of all those who have come in their contact. As a result, women's access to reproductive and maternal health care have been severely hampered. Health care for women i.e. timely access to necessary and comprehensive sexual and reproductive health services during the crisis, such as emergency contraception, safe abortion and safe childbirth needs to be resumed urgently by the Public Health Department of the Government.
 Maintain an adequate stock of menstrual hygiene products at healthcare and community facilities. Train medical staff and frontline social workers to recognize signs of domestic violence and provide appropriate resources and services.
 Now, the MHCIB commissioner had sent a directive to them conveying that if private medical practitioners do not open their nursing homes, their registration as medical practitioners would be cancelled.
